

The One is Worldwide

There is so much going on for The One Bride Guide, I can hardly keep my head from spinning! Every year the talent just gets better and better - more refined and daring in a way. Photographers are taking chances with color, lighting and style. Brides are stepping outside the wedding comfort zone and throwing some creative, memorable weddings. The vendors have responded to this trend and are providing some of the most exquisite bridal style I've ever seen. I know The One is reaching a new level in 2012!

We have finally launched The Off-White Pages ONLINE! Thanks to Holly Hoffman Minutaglio as well as Ashley and Nate Rippke for helping make it happen. Check out www.theoffwhitepages.com and make sure your business is listed. Join us for a launch party at Aria on Thursday, Feb. 23rd. Check our web site for more info.

The most fun I've been having is with our new interns!! Stephanie Baldwin, Marinna Cardona and Kristine Gonzales from the Collegiate High School at Del Mar are truly a blessing and ready for any challenge. Go online to see how they've taken over www.theonebrideguideblog.com. Their posts are hilarious and helpful! I hope these girls stick around for awhile. We also have a healthy new addiction to Pinterest - check out pinterest.com/theonebrideguide. There are many exciting posts going on online, helping The One grow and reach more and more Brides around the world!
